Licensing

For this software package there are two parts in the bundle; Program and Data.

- Program is any EXE or DLL provided and the source code that makes up them.
- Data is any text or list of information that supports the use of this program, data is primarily – but not limited to – text and XML files.

This software comes under two licensing alternatives; GPL and Commercial.

Data provided with the application is collected from various sources on the web and is considered free and open information and is not part of any copyright statement. This includes some comments in the code. The data is provided As-Is with no guarantees.

How to select license

The licensing of this software impacts both the software and data added by you as a user. If you can accept that data you have added to this application and changes o the application itself will fall under GPL you can continue with the GPL. More specific it is the configuration data for the application that is required for the operation of the application that will fall under GPL.

Excepted from the GPL requirement is any log file generated.

If the GPL for some reason doesn't work for you please contact me at nils.hammar@bedug.com in order to negotiate a commercial license.
